AvidBrain is part of the new, innovative movement called the sharing economy, which brings people with similar interests together to share their expertise while making money. This new model flips the traditional educational model on its head. In the old model, certified teachers or faculty were the only people approved to teach others. In this new model, anyone can be a "mini-expert" in a certain area and get paid to share their knowledge with others.

â€¢ Sharing Skills and Talents â€¢ Expert Educators in Every Subject You Can Imagine â€¢ Creating Innovation in Education
