Im a female photographer from the Baton Rouge area and I am continuing a project on female sexuality and masturbation. I have started this project because female masturbation is a conversation rarely had. There seems to be an overarching narrative that men get to be openly sexual and women do not. Therefore, I would like to create an intimate body of work dealing with females liberating themselves in a very sensual yet sophisticated manner. I understand that this is a very private act but just because it is kept private doesn't mean it doesn't happen.

I'm searching for women (18+) who are interested in having this experience. First we would meet for coffee or tea and have a conversation about boundaries. Almost like having a conversation with a sexual partner except I am just an observer and documenter. Then we would plan a date for the shoot and discuss location.

A couple things..
I will not allow this project to turn into something pornographic. I image it being very artful and tasteful. So please be respectful if you decide you are interested and respond. This is you opening up about your sexuality, self love, and being confident in your own skin to encourage other women to be confident in their own skin. To empower female self love instead of repress it.
