Rescue groups serve a useful purpose, But so do legitimate quality breeders who love their dogs just as much as rescuers.

If you are diligent in finding out all you can about the breed and the breeder before you choose your pet, or for that matter the rescue organization you are working with then you can rest assured that you have done your due diligence. Don't let someone else who spurs hatred and garbage sway Your own intelligence with their crap.

Don't the rescue groups also stand to gain by selling you a dog or cat.
