So, I got a female black cat when she was just 8 weeks old. It was take her or her freeze in the cold, and I was liking the idea of having a feline roommate. Some things changed, and I'm not able to be home as often as I'd like. She's stuck in a small apartment alone and it's not very fair to her. So, I'm looking to give her to anyone who can give her a good home and plenty of attention. If you have any questions and are generally interested (and not just curious), email me and we'll go from there..
