I have a German Shepard that is around a 1 1/2 years old and he up to date on all shots and not fixed so breeding is still a option. He stays on a little under a acre of land and is full of energy and loves to play. He is a out door dog so is not house broken so it would be your option if you would like to make him a indoor dog. He is friendly and not aggressive towards other people (sometimes on the shy side) but will let you know if someone comes around the property. I have 3 other dogs too that he plays with so I think he may get a long with other dogs but not sure about cats. He has a lot more energy than my other dogs and with work I just don't have the time to give him and thats not fair. I am asking $300 or best offer to insure some one is committed to giving him a forever home. If you are interested in this beautiful dog please give me a call at my house or text my cell

thank.
