Regretfully, I must find my dog a new home. She is too energetic for our family. She seems to be okay with cats. She is housebroke and is very, very friendly. She likes to lick and puppy bite. She does need some work in those areas. She loves the snow and loves to be outdoors. She is in between a medium and small dog. My little dog does not get along with her at all. It isn't fair to him or her since I have had him for 6 years now. I thought we get add another one to the family but that isn't the case. I am asking $100 re-homing fee which could be negotiable to the right person. Please email for more.
