Looking for a new home for our RI Red. We are moving and can not have chickens where we are moving to. All our other chickens have been rehomed but "Ruby" has not. She had her comb ripped off by something before a snow storm this winter. She has been on antibiotics and has been cleared by our vet as 100% healthy. She however can not be housed with other chickens due to the soft spot on her head, as they will attack/kill her. Her eggs can not be eaten due to the antibiotic and her meat is not suitable for eating either. She can be kept with other fowl such as geese or ducks or other farm animals like horses, cows, sheep, goats, etc... She is a sweet bird and would do well with children as we have a.
