Are you going to dangerous lengths to lose weight like eating cotton balls or tapeworms? Or do you consume something even weirder, just to feel full? Have you recently lost major pounds following an unconventional diet, and are now too afraid to stop? Do you constantly go from one celebrity diet craze to the next, in the hopes of achieving the perfect body? Maybe the pressure to look thin has made you addicted to slimming shakes or the latest juice cleanse? Do your friends and family constantly comment on your extreme eating habits?

If you appear between the ages of 16 and 26, live in the NY, NJ or PA area and have gone through extraordinary lengths to get thin, MTV and Gigantic! Productions want to hear your story for a potential episode of the Emmy-award winning "True Life" series. Please send an email with your name, location, contact info, a recent photo, and some details about how no fad diet is too extreme for you.
