Have you ever heard a voice in a cartoon and thought "I want to do that!"
 Have you ever played a video game and wondered how the characters got their voices?

Well then maybe voice acting is for you!

Voice acting is something you can do on your own time in your own home. It gives you the chance to play video game characters, cartoon characters, and frees you up to play characters not even your same gender or species! It's also a great way to make some quick money on the side.

These class are designed to help those interested in the art of voice acting. They tend to run an hour and a half long and will help teach the basics of creating voice acting characters for anime, cartoons, radio plays, video games and more. It will also help each student explore their range and learn techniques for creating new voices they can make (such as teaching girls how to do a boys voice, old age, higher pitched, ect) and strengthen your voice while showing how to avoid vocal damage.
