Attention all buyers. This is on hold for someone, I 'm waiting for their money order. IF the sale completes, It will no longer be available. I have been sent a money order from someone else for a lot of money and it was a scam. I'm taking it to the police to make sure if its legitimate or not. because it had no return address and money gram will not cash a money order without a name and full address . I asked several times for that person to send me their return address and all they did is continue to pressure me to cash the money order.. You either send me a legitimate money order with your full name and address or it will be taken to the police authorities. Also it would be so much easier if you send me money through my pay pal account. When your interested in a product, you contact me by text and I will give you the email. Meanwhile if you call me from a computer phone, you will be charged a penalty for it. I do not accept sales through text, I want to talk to a live person. I do not accept money orders without a full name and return address !! I do not remove the ad when you are interested in them. I simply put pending payment or Sold until the full completion of the sale. I want other buyers to realize its a hassle to put these up in case they have to be returned for any reason. I want to be able to re sell. Thank you for your cooperation. Attention buyers: Do not send me money orders without confirming your full name. I do not do business with people I don't know. Although three people buying my stuff seem ok, I m very careful in how I do buisness so if you want to pick up the item after payment is clear, you must bring ID to the mail services person who will take your name and then give you the item. I have someone already giving me a money order for this item. ONce its sold I will write sold in the subject. I also would like to speak to you as well, Do not call me from a google phone that I cannot contact you with or the deal will be off. This is a beautiful color. I already bought it before and I was buying a second for a friend but they sent me the wrong color. she wanted another color. I will sell it for only 235.00 so don't bargain with me because it was paid 25[illegible] I need to get rid of my money by selling it. You will not find this cheaper even if you find a kitchen aid refurbished cheaper. I am in Astoria and can have it picked up if you cannot be to me and you will have to send me the shipping cost. I will ship it from the address below which is my billing address. The model number is 20 but I'm not sure if its [illegible] UPS/fedex/usps. I prefer fed ex because they are securly taken care.
