We are a male Top 40 Duo/Trio who are looking to expand our sound with female vocals. Playing an instrument would be a huge plus, especially fiddle, mando or uke. Currently we are made up of guitar/lead vocals (me), bass/ vocals and percussion/drums/vocals as the trio. The duo is guitar with bass. We all sing and love to do harmony. We all have day jobs and families/children, and play out every 3-4 weeks. The trio has been together for 7 years and the duo (guitar and bass) have been together for over 20 years. We are more concerned about having fun and sounding great than making money at this. We do make money, but not like the old days. So if big $$$ is your focus, we are not your band. We are also into songwriting....following a country, country/pop, folk/pop type of style.....so if you want to collaborate on some writing, we would love to incorporate that too! Guitar player has been to Nashville several times and is interested in licensing out originals to younger artists.

Guitar player and bass player have also been in jazz quartets in the past, so if you have some jazz experience, we can throw that into the mix too. We currently have about 10 Real Book standards with vocals that we rotate through if we are playing a wedding or country club gig.

NO NEWBIES PLEASE. We have all been playing and singing since high school and are good at what we do. If you are little rusty because you haven't played out in a while, this is OK. We just don't want to be teaching people how to be in a band or how to play and sing.

Good Luck in your search and thanks for reading.
