We are a male lead guitar/lead singer and a drummer looking for a bass player who is diverse in musical style and can sing lead and backup to complete the band. We will be doing mostly 70s thru current "dance/party" rock and pop with a small amount of country for a good mix. We have several songs we do now and with a few new additions to those we should be able to have a full set list ready in no time. I might add here that we do have good equipment including a PA and a place to rehearse.

You should have at least some experience playing onstage, be versatile in your playing and singing style, and be able to play your instrument and sing well enough to make what you play sound like what you're supposed to be playing. We are mid 40's and early 50's in age so it's probably best if you're at least 35 or better. Once we are all together we expect to be gig ready reasonably quickly.

We will be playing some of the local bars and clubs but we'll also be aiming for some of the more desirable gigs like private parties, corporate events, resorts & country clubs etc too as we go. While we're doing the bar gigs we will be getting the things together that we'll need to get the better gigs mentioned.

All we ask is that you know your instrument and have decent vocals, will make rehearsals every week, will do your homework each week and play/sing the material well. Most of all though we want a "team player" who gets what we're doing and will keep song selection and any other suggestions within that realm. If you are a self-absorbed ego-driven "know it all" who will want to try to take over I promise you will not last very long with us.

If you're interested call Jim at just respond to this ad and I will get back to you within 24 hours or less. Thank.
