I've tried this once before, and although I did find someone she wasn't able to get pregnant. Since then I moved on and now I'm in LA trying once more. I am looking for a healthy fairly young and fairly attractive female to conceive my child. Ten thousand when you get pregnant and another 10 thousand when you deliver. Here's my original post: I'm not a weirdo, or strange, or insane...really! But I am pragmatic and I want a child. I am a single, 42 year old man, educated, successful, not ugly(lol), creative, and 100% sane..really. It's just that I'm tired of the dating scene and marriage seems to be a failure in our contemporary society. Men also have biological clocks, believe it or not. I hadn't realized the importance of family, until my father passed and it suddenly hit me! I am drug/disease free, and I have no health issues. The last time I even took an aspirin was over 20 years ago. I eat organic and exercise, both my mind and body, on a regular basis. I own a house and two businesses and recently I have been involved in the film business. I speak two languages, but my first is English. I have no criminal history/background. I tell you all this to indicated how serious I am about pursuing this possibility. I know it's a long shot, but Craigslist seemed to be the first step to explore this. Thanks and again, I hope this doesn't sound so "out".
