Do you need help with the setup of confusing and modern Audio and Video components? Are you trying to setup a computer, wireless network, DVD, Gaming System, or TV in an efficient and clutter-free style for your home or office? If you need help, or are too busy to do it, just email and I'll schedule a time that's convenient for you to assist in setup. With the majority of modern electronics somewhat confusing in how they operate (especially when setup in tandem or in conjunction with other components), I can provide a quick and carefree installation/setup for you. The holidays are coming, and if you've recently purchased a new style of TV, or gaming system, or you're trying to configure your wireless network: I can help. I charge a flat-fee per unit that is reasonable for today's budget-minded consumer.

I've been working with electronics for 25 years and have the experience you'll find pleasing for your required home entertainment purposes. I want everyone to enjoy the LCD TV, Xbox, PS3, Hi-def audio, Wii, or Computer they've purchased without the stress of setup. And I want you to have the modern, wire-free look that you desire. I also have experience at basic repairs. We're also interested in saving you money. So if you're looking to get rid of cable and spare yourself the $70 per month, ask us how!

Please email if you're in need of some help! I'm available most days through the week and some weekends. Check us out and like us on Facebook! Eight29 Home Theater & A/V Support. :)
 Thanks!
