185,000 miles, has been a great car for me, needs work now and I don't have the time.

One major, two minor issues:

- 1) Lost oil pressure as I arrived at Providence Airport - leak from crank seal which is inside timing belt assembly (so looking at a timing belt job to be able to drive any major distance). Car is within 1/2 mile of airport at mechanic.
- 2) Check engine light has been on since August 2014 - OBD-II code is P0700 ("transmission control system malfunction indicator lamp request"). Car drives great - no transmission issues - no slipping, drives smooth, great pick-up. Probably some sensor.
- 3) Air conditioner can be intermittent on hot days.

I'm obviously not hiding anything - so it's a car for someone who can do some work or is willing to invest several hundred dollars to get a nice ride. It was a beauty with all the snow this winter.

Photo above is a stock photo (my car looks the same - same paint and tan leather interior).

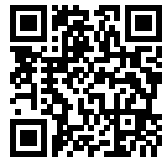

Cash only, selling as is.
