looking for motivated men and women who would like to work from home. I've based my business strictly through social media (facebook/instagram/twitter) and have coached over 40 people to come join me on this journey. This company sells naturally based health and wellness products and focuses on motivating people to become healthier. If this sounds like something you would like to do, I am looking for 5 more people to join my team! I will personally coach you and have all the tools you need to succeed. I can help you
