Hi! I'm a traveler slowly making my way back west from the east coast after I had some plans in Georgia suddenly fall through. I have a ride to Nashville tomorrow morning and will be ready to head out from there asap. I'm really not too picky with destination, any distance west helps. It's just me, a backpack, and my banjolele (tiny instrument, take up no more space than a purse). I carry no drama nor pets with me. I should be able to help out with gas and food as well if need be. I'm an appreciative, positive person who likes most genres of music and usually has a story to tell.
