Name's Simon. Been doing karaoke for about two years now and have recently been suggested by two musicians to take my voice further. Everybody says my voice is good (and no, most of them were not drunk). Can't say I'm the best. I don't know shit about musical theory, but I've still got a good voice. My voice tends to be better when singing lower, but can also pull of a rocky kind of voice. I'd prefer to be in a cover band at this point, maybe write a couple songs. I'm only a singer and only know one guitarist (which skills seem to be limited, although I've never really asked him to play much). Just seeing what's out there. I'm located in Greenwood, which is about 20 miles east of Lincoln and around 40 miles west of Omaha. Send me a text letting me know if you're interested.
