I'm currently seeking someone to tutor me on the piano/keyboard. It is hard for me to take lessons at a company because of my work schedule so I would like to find someone who can work around my schedule. I'am available Tuesdays and every other weekend.I do take online art lessons also so flexibility with time is a major plus. If you think you have the skills to teach me to play the piano again I want to meet with you. An education in music is not necessary to me just the skills to play and teach. I played piano when I was young and have been off it for many years so I need to start from the beginning again. Willing to discuss rate and times to meet. The closer you are to me the better. I hope to hear from you thank you.
