I'm looking for some college students who would be interested in doing some street team work every now and again. Basically, you would be going to events and putting flyers on cars to promote other concerts & events. You will need to have a car. Public transportation will not get you to all of the places you will need to go. You need to be able to work on Friday and Saturday nights consistently. Please don't contact me if you don't have a car or if you are not willing to work on Friday and Saturday nights. Also, it's best if you go in pairs, so if you have a friend that is interested as well, that would be great. The pay is $10 an hour. Please text me if interested. Thank you.
