to sell and I need! $40000.00 was going to sell for 55k+, could not find a lower price. There is a great deal here.

See consider higher mileage Civic for the same price. I can compare a lot of cars. I doubt they are being sold for more than this price. I just replaced the engine on this Cadillac and the engine has

77k miles on it
 UPDATE After I installed rear main seal, leaks is very small now. I will however be replacing the rear main seal next week and will have it up for $5000.00 or will end up keeping the car. In order to replace this seal, just have to drop transmission, can be done in 4 hours with right tools. Seal is $16.49 at Advance Auto Parts. Car is perfect for a mechanic. If you don't know anything about cars and just want to buy this car, I will not sell it to you even though I am selling it as is, I don't want to see this car trashed because it is driven without being repaired and oil level not being checked. Great car and want to see it go to a good home.
