I found this sweet little girl about 3 weeks ago. I thought she was my cat as I had lost a cat that looks exactly like her. She was pretty skinny so I think she had been lost for a little while. We have since fattened her up, and shaved her due to being matted. I went to put soft paws on her because she keeps attacking my other cat, well while putting the soft paws on her I discovered she was not my cat. My cat had 6 toes this cat doesn't. I am so sorry if she is yours. Please claim her as I can keep her due to her picking on my other cat. She is supper sweet with me, but not my cat.
