I grew up in a mining shack and have since helped build my home and with divorced it's gone and I desire to be on property again. I want to live off grid in a structure I build or one I can fix up. I am a landscape designer, gardener, all around worker, raised doing hard labor, Nanny, and house chores. I want to find a place where I can help make it better and have a place to feel home for me and my kids. I will work my ass off to help make a business and farm. I have lots of skills like propagation, pruning, plant id, cooking, cleaning, and much much more. My boyfriend has amazing skills also like welding, woodworking, great overall lumberjack hunter who will put forth all his efforts to build a home together. Looking for long term ranch hand positions. He works but I work from.
