Looking for a new home for my red tail boa. I've had her since 2007. I do not have a cage big enough for her and she stays out in my bathroom. Used to dogs. Eats live rats. Last good measure she was over 72 inches. That was a while back. The only reason I'm getting rid of her is because I'm probably moving to Florida and will be traveling. Preferably an experienced snake owner. When I would keep her in a cage she would grate her nose on the mesh lid trying to get out so I would just leave it open for her to go in and out of. Text
