Female Cat, she loves to be petted but not picked up. if she needs you she will definitely let you know. She is not good with dogs, okay with other cats. I have to give her to a new home simply because we have dogs and they do not get along. I would keep her but unfortunately I am outnumbered :P

there is a $20 rehoming fee. I did not used to understand this but I do since I want to be very certain that she is going to a good home. I will have to meet you before she goes home with you. She is fixed and tests negative for feline aids. definitely healthy just needs a caring and loving family. please tell me a little about yourself and current living situation when responding. I will send pictures of her upon interest.!
