Hello! I am a 32 y/o male, professional, full-time student. I am seeking a comfortable living arrangement ASAP. I am quiet, respectful, responsible, and spend most of my time studying my craft or attempting to learn other things I am interested in. I am NOT a nuisance. I don't carry on loud activities and don't consort with frequent random visitors. I do however have 2 children (boys) with whom I would like to spend time with on weekends only. That is not mandatory for I will be graduating in a few months and will be seeking a home of my own for them and myself.

I am currently enrolled in an Auto Technician training program until I graduate January. This program is provided by a Christian-based organization and not only provides me paid training but also will award me a job upon graduation. I get a bi-weekly stipend of $300. It would very feasible for me to allot up to $250 bi-weekly towards my living expenses. That is $500 a month. Don't worry about food. I am provided meals every day at school and have food stamps.

My ideal living arrangement would include a furnished room with a bed, dressers, and a closet. A TV and private bathroom preferred but not mandatory. I would like to have wifi and laundry included. Anything else can be discussed.

Thank you for reading my ad. Please contact me by email or phone with any options or questions you have. Peace and.
