So here's the deal.
 I had picked up this f150 thinking it would be a good truck, turns out I should have looked at the frame. The frame is dead, no real chance of salvaging it. However the engine transmission and pretty much everything on the bloody truck is great. Engine is a 300*4.9* straight six. 5 speed with manual locking hub four wheel drive. We drove it from Hooksett to Kingston, it was a hairy ride because the frame is so far gone. The truck will be sold in as is condition, I am not parting it out, its all going as one piece. The engine and transmission are solid, they both run great. I wish I could have gotten this on the road but it's not in the cards for me. 900$ or best reasonable.
