Hi, I have a beautiful Fawn and white american bulldog. We are looking for a new home due to military orders over seas. We have a weight restriction for the breed. Yes we have looked into it. We want to bring our baby with us but at this time can not. She is a big family dog and wants to desperately be with you. She loves to play tug a war, go for long car rides. She wants to be a companion for anyone that will love her. she is good with kids and small children although sometimes she doesnt realize how big she is. She does not get along with other female dogs but will tolerate males. We dont know how she would take to smaller animals since she has only had one other dog in her life. No cats. She is up to date on shots/rabies. She has been taking heart worm prevention and flea meds every month on the 10th. Small rehoming fee to ensure great home, will work with.
