I have two cats that need a good home. They are brother and sister and if possible I would like to keep them together. They are 3 years old, male is all grey and female is all black. They are both polydactyls.. the male is very lovable and the female only likes to cuddle when you are trying to sleep lol but she is sweet. I am moving next week and am not able to bring them with me. I have had them since they were born as their mother was mine as well. They are both fixed and up to date on shots. They are friendly around children of all.
