Veterans - if you do not feel that you have gotten what you need from the VA in terms of mental health, [and I have talked to those who do feel that the VA helped and those who report being told they could not have PTSD or were not eligible for a waitlist] I am a licensed Therapist offering reduced fee trauma counseling. I am not interested in labeling you, but helping you to have a better life.

I am trained in Brainspotting if you want to research it:

I will turn no one away who is sincere in wanting to heal and move forward with their lives. I am happy to offer a free phone consultation as well - I have got to believe you have.
