  My name is Seth and I offer private lessons for both guitar and bass guitars. Having a wide background of teaching all ages, and heavy experience with young children, I understand that every musician is in a different place. Whether you're just starting out or ready to get back into playing again, we can work together to establish what the best direction is for you.

  I am currently a senior performance student at the University of Colorado Denver. Before involving myself with numerous Denver bands I was a member of the Blue Knights World Percussion Ensemble. Having gained that experience I was asked to instruct Rise World Percussion Ensemble where I was the front ensemble caption head. While going through school I record many different audio projects, as well as playing with various ensembles and bands.

  Lessons can be offered both in my home at your own home within the greater Denver area! Please don't hesitate to contact me for more information about pricing, scheduling, and other concerns.

  I look forward to hearing from you!
