This cat has a BENT TAIL. It is a genetic feature, not a damaged tail. He is probably a little over a year old.

He was found in CVS pharmacy, 4th Street, by a young man, Jake, who took him to Redwood Emergency Clinic by Costco. The cat has an unregistered microchip. The Sonoma Humane Society refused to take in the cat, telling the young man to take him back and release him in CVS. Redwood Clinic later said they knew who paid for the chip and had left word for the person. But the man has a black and white Female cat.

Seeing posters for my lost cat Tommy, a look-alike, Jake brought him to me. I took him in. Jack is good with cats and dogs and loves to play. Tommy is still missing.

Have you lost a friendly, beautiful, playful tuxedo cat? If so, please.
