I have a female, two year old that isn't fixed, but is up to date on her shots. She DOES NOT do well with other dogs. She does well with most cats as she was raised with them. She does well with children PROVIDED they do not hang on her or lay on her. Older children that understand this would be better. She has a bad back paw where her paw pad grew together. The foot is fully functional, but she is very defensive over it. She was raised on a farm and loves to run and play. She has high energy and loves the beach. She does not have papers. She loves car rides and is accustomed to going everywhere with me and is used to big crowds of people. She is both an indoor and outdoor dog. I just enlisted in the army and need to find her a home ASAP. She is my baby and I would like to be able to see her again or remain in contact with her new family so I know how she is.
