Experienced teacher of both the piano, ukulele, and the guitar.

Temple University Graduate

Actively teaching in local schools and a home studio in West Philadelphia

Many years experience teaching group and private lessons to all ages. Whether your goal is to learn to play your instrument, compose your own music, get into a university music program, or simply become a better all around musician I can demystify and give clarity to what has kept you from unlocking your potential on the instrument.

I can teach you to play your chosen instrument with high technical proficiency utilizing natural body mechanics. You will also be able to learn the construction and analysis of music, allowing you to be able to understand and play pop, jazz, classical, blues, rock, and other styles of music and integrate these ideas into your own playing.

In addition I can teach you practical techniques and methods that will enable you to compose and improvise your own music, which is of great importance to the development of any musician. Through this training you will begin to develop the techniques and knowledge to becoming a highly skilled player, giving you the confidence and skills to succeed in whatever musical endeavor you choose to pursue.

are just what you have been looking for. I have a wide range of musical styles and can teach you to play them all. Using your natural body mechanics, the piano, guitar, and ukulele are your friends and not your enemies. I can help you overcome any limitations and teach you to play without the tedious and tedious techniques that are taught in your unique individual goals, not a method book.

Formerly an injured pianist, my Taubman piano training has helped to overcome my technical and artistic limitations at the keyboard. I teach simple techniques to help eliminate fatigue, pain, and technical limitations in piano playing, resulting in an easy and brilliant technique.

Guitar At the Westminster Conservatory in Princeton, NJ studied classical and jazz guitar. Currently I perform with various ensembles in the Philadelphia area in a wide variety of genres such as classical, jazz, tango, and classical Indian music. I have an extensive knowledge of classical guitar playing technique and repertoire and also teach electric/acoustic guitar and its proper playing techniques in all styles, such as jazz, rock, metal, blues, and pop.

I am easy going and understanding and always have my student's best interest at heart. In addition to my instruments I also teach beginner to advanced music theory and ear training. I can teach you to learn to read music, analyze it, or compose and improvise. Whether you would like to learn chord construction, counterpoint, song writing, improvisation and soloing techniques, or simply music fundamentals I can help.

Lessons are held at a home studio location in West Philadelphia.
