Beware, there are to many people running scams on this list. I am just trying to find a nice small dog/puppy and the posts I email are either out of state, re-homing fee of $300.00,or will ship to you, you pay for shipping up front. I thought this list was for the G.I. area and not CA or Texas? Craig's list needs to have better control of who is posting and put in the post the re-homing fee and location of the dog. If the post says contact for more information about re-homing you know it is either a scam, a breeder, which both at not allowed as per the rules set forth by Craig's list . Why are these rules not enforced? Give me the job and I will weed out all these fake posts. Better yet, if your looking for a dog or cat go to the Humane Society. They need good forever.
