Hey there!

So, to make a long story short, I'm wanting to send my best friend from Kansas City a really thoughtful, and sweet gift. We haven't been able to see each other much since I moved to WA so we text a lot. We always greet each other with "Hey you" and have for years now.

I want to send her a smaller wooden piece, that can be easily hung on a wall (The size of a MacBook) I want it to be "Hey you" carved in cursive and painted a lightly burnt orange.

It would mean a lot, and it'd be a great reminder that I'm always there for her despite the distance.

Okay I'm rambling at this point. But wood and paint can be provided unless you have the materials as well. Please email if interested/qualified and shoot me an asking price! Not looking to spend more than 60-70 dollars, but can be flexible on that if you are willing to gather the material on your own.

I look forward to your response, and even more so making someone I love so very happy.
