There are too many people who don't know what they're doing in audio, please only respond if you have a perfect audio monitor set up with high volume output and you have incredible ears. I need all of my final ebooks listened to, the before's and after's, to ensure proper compression and filtration and no distortion. You will just listen and sign off, you will probably be signing off on all of them and doing no more than that, and will be paid hourly just to analyze. Do not submit resume without an actual response to the ad and a reciting of your expertise specific to the ad. There are too many people in this industry with ten mile long resumes who have no idea about.
