I know it's really close to Christmas and it's a long shot but I am completely lost at this point and have tried everything I can think to rectify the situation. I obviously did not succeed. 4 days ago i had the 2nd back surgery in a 3 week time frame. I only got this surgery after fighting and seeing 9 doctors, all whom ignored me and treated me in a manner no person deserves to be treated especially when they are asking for help. Help these medical professionals take an actual oath swearing to abide by it I might add!!! My shoulders gave out after 17 years of being a barber. It was terrifying! It isn't as if you spend that long in one career and one day wake up and go land a job In a completely new field that will pay the bills and you are capable of performing. I started driving uber and was trying to figure it out when the driving brought out a herniated disk pinching my sciatic nerve. I have never felt such a horrid pain in my life, and u have had 3 kids.Â I didn't get any breaks it progressively became worse every single day for 8 mos. I am not at all a suicidal person but this made it cross my mind. I found out the day of surgery that unbeknownst to me and entirely false my medical record said I was on methadone. I am NOT on methadone! If I was however does that mean I did not deserve to be treated like a human being? I have been the sole provider for my 3 kids over 11 years with receiving only 2 $6 checks for support for all 3 in that time period. So needless to say I have lost everything I can't cover the bills let alone Christmas and it's killing me! I still have a bit more down time too to fully recouperate from the 2nd surgery and that is another ordeal in and of itself. This was the worst experience of my life and I have had a pretty messed up life so it says a lot! Anyone who isÂ reading this and is even considering assisting I hope there's more people like you In the world or we are all doomed!
