Kris is an older gentlemen (please be 50-70), could be any race, but have at least a little stubble (goatee or beard okay). Kris carries around a big book (could be an old reference book like a dictionary or complete works of Shakespeare etc.) which he reads from to say how naughty or nice each child has been on a given year and what gifts and advice is needed. Kris is unlike Santa in that he gives random gifts and advice. We will provide the gifts, you just provide a costume (eccentric, old fashion attire: options include suspenders, corduroy jacket, pocket watch, top hat or fedora). Pay is $40. You will meet us at a quiet park where you can either be sitting on a bench feeding birds. We would like to meet once before the actual performance for the kids so that we are on the same page.

There are two young children (a 4 and 2 year old girls) and several older cousins and adults who will be there to give credibility to your performance and back up what you say.
