My name is Nick. I'm moving to San Francisco from Las Vegas! To have a lot of shared fun on the road and in order to cover some of the expenses I'm gladly offering to do a rideshare together! I have a mid-size Mercedes and I believe all the stuff that I want to take with me would take up the trunk and some space on the backseats so I'd be able to take only one passenger on the journey (although it might be possible to squeeze in if you're a couple). Asking $50 for a trip. Departure time and even date are flexible yet I'd prefer to start driving early in the morning to catch the maximum of day light. Please, reach out with any questions and concerns :)

Safe travels,
