QR Code Link to This Post I have one male sugar Joey for sale.
His bald spot just hasn't gone away yet. He is $225
He was recently neutered.
He's 4 months OOP

PLEASE research these little things. They are colony animals and do not do well alone. I have heard from my vet that starting out with one for a short period of time is okay, but it must be on you all the time during the day. Means in your pocket, on your person, and socializing with it. Now during the day they sleep because as they are nocturnal. But it needs that strong bond and if you do not have a second Joey

These little critters live up to 16 years and he would make a great Christmas!
