QR Code Link to This Post currently being moved by the movers I employed to move my properties from my house old house, if you really don't mind making new arrangements with the movers as the piano is en-route and can attempt to get in touch with them to re-route the items, having delivered the rest of my properties which was completed this evening here and these should not attract too many charges since the distance can be recovered within a day.. I'm sorry for the.
