What is the Christmas Community Cat Survey?

Have you heard of the Christmas Bird Count? That is a count that is repeated in exactly the same way every year at exactly the same time of year, so that year-to-year comparisons of population counts can be compared, and over time, long-term trends can be distinguished.

Citizen Scientists are critical to the success of these sorts of counts.

In the same way, the Annual Community Cat Survey is a standardized method for counting Community Cats (cats that are unowned and live exclusively outdoors, including so-called barn, feral and stray cats). This Survey will be conducted during the same time each year. Conducting the survey at the same time every year will allow year-to-year comparisons to be made, so that populations of unowned cats, and their spay-neuter status, can be tracked over time.

Why is this important?

The reason it is important to track Community Cat populations over time and to map these, is to provide at first, information on where spay-neuter work has been done and where large groups of unsterilized cats still occur; and second, over years' time, if and when spay-neuter work is working to reduce colony size.

Already, the Christmas Community Cat Survey is helping to identify where spay-neuter work is needed. In 2014, the Community Spay-Neuter Clinic conducted the first Annual Community Cat Count. Using information from Citizen Scientists and their volunteer counters, they counted 5,000 cats in 767 different locations. The Community Spay-Neuter Clinic has taken steps to sterilize the population in the 100+ locations identified.

Please contribute this information for cats you know or have heard of. Again, we do not ask that you provide any identifying location information.
