QR Code Link to This Post Hi. I need a personal injury attorney who does not mind a limited tort case from injuries I incurred from 2016. My injuries are ongoing and I have not been able to heal properly because of many reasons concerning all my Doctors and not being able to get back to them. You would have to be an attorney who is not expecting a lot but some is better than none. I would not be pursuing this had my hopes not been lifted by 2 attorneys that have rejected my case because of limited tort and a chance to heal with some funds to pay for them in the future. Time is running out and I feel my case is strong as they have told me not to give up. But also in the same breath I've Been Told the insurance company only wants to offer $500. Not only do I feel that I was treated unfairly but to have to place an ad to find an attorney is unbelievable and inhuman for them to not feel or understand what my future holds for me with these injuries. I am still post- concussive and slow. Please understand that when you call I may not remember placing this ad. Thank.
